VOTE AGAINST PROHIBITION

Alabama Citizens Refuse to Amend Constitution.

ENTHUSIASM IN LARGE CITIES

Thousands of People Rejoice Over the Victory of the Liquor Element—Result of Election Cannot Be Regarded as a Straight Anti-Prohibition Victory, Because Personal Politics Were Injected into the Issue.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 30.—All indications point to a majority of between 18,000 and 20,000 in Alabama against the prohibition constitutional amendment. Chairman J. Lee Long who has been in charge of the fight against the amendment, claims that the majority against the amendment will be fully 20,000.

The early returns indicated a land slide against the amendment and succeeding bulletins fully bore out the early indications.

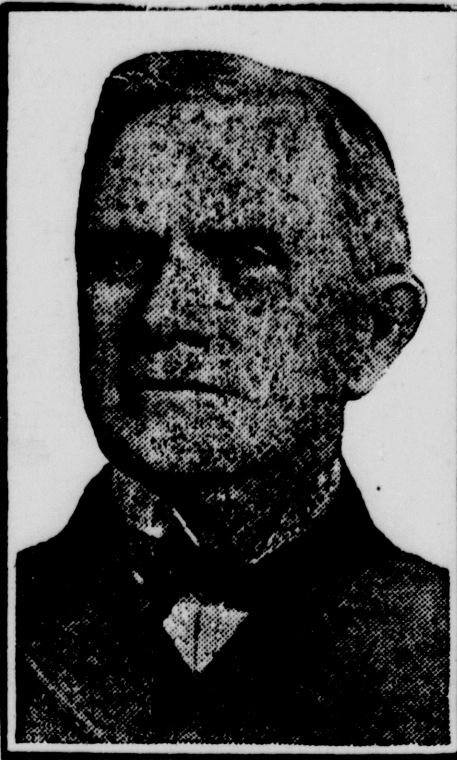

Jefferson county, in which is Birmingham, the largest city in the state gave a majority of over 1,000 against the amendment. Mobile, Montgomery and Cullman counties show the largest majorities on the victory side, and it appears the amendment has carried but three counties, Talladega, Macon and Sumter, with Lee in doubt.

The election cannot be regarded as a straight anti-prohibition victory because of the personal politics that has been injected into the issue. Its association with the administration of Governor B. B. Comer and his reported ability to name a successor to the governorship in Judge S. D. Weekly, author of the prohibition bills, have figured prominently in the result.

A significant feature of the result is the fact that sentiment against the amendment is so widespread. Rural precincts, small towns and cities alike, for the most part, returned substantial majorities on the winning side.

There has never been seen anything like the good feeling shown in Birmingham over the result. Thousands of people from Jefferson and adjoining counties were here to see the returns flashed and the downtown streets were one billow of enthusiasm. Mobile was literally wild with joy as a result of the election. As citizens marched cheering through the city with the bands playing "Dixie," thousands of Roman candles were discharged. Many women joined in the parade.

The majority in Montgomery county against the prohibition amendment may go to 1,500. From the country precincts the reports indicate that the farmers' vote was largely against it.

Most of the large counties went heavily against the measure.

YOUTH KILLS SWEETHEART

Vincennes, Ind., Nov. 30.—Miss Etta Burba, twenty years old, was stabbed to death by Oscar Savage, her sweetheart, at her home here.

The girl was preparing supper for her father when Savage, it is alleged, slashed Burba with a knife. Burba defended herself, when his daughter interfered. Savage then plunged the long knife into the girl's heart. Savage was arrested.

MURDERS MOTHER AND AN OFFICER

Ohio Man Wounds Two Others and Kills Himself.

Greenville, O., Nov. 30.—After murdering his mother and an officer who had attempted to arrest him and probably fatally injuring another woman and her husband, Clyde Weaver, thirty-four years old, committed suicide near here.

Weaver was declared by physicians to be afflicted with exaggerated ego and was under suspended sentence from the probate court. Sheriff John F. Haber and Deputy Sheriff William H. Farra went to Weaver's home to arrest him.

Weaver opened fire on them from an upper window with a shotgun and Farra fell wounded. A moment later Weaver's mother rushed from the house, crying, "I'm shot," and fell dead at the feet of the sheriff.

While Haber was trying to revive the woman Weaver walked from the house, carrying a revolver. He went to the woodshed, where Farra had crawled, and fired twice at the wounded officer, killing him. He then jumped into the buggy in which the officers had reached the house and drove to the home of Levi Minnich, a neighbor, from whom he demanded protection.

When Minnich hesitated to allow him to enter the house Weaver drew his revolver and shot Minnich through the back. Weaver then turned on Mrs. Minnich and shot her twice.

A large posse surrounded the house and the two deputy sheriffs broke through the door. They discovered the body of Weaver under a bed. He had used his last bullet to blow out his own brains.

The condition of Mr. and Mrs. Minnich is very critical.

Milwaukee Autoist Killed.

Milwaukee, Nov. 30.—George L. Odenbreit, well known in automobile circles, died from injuries received from an explosion of a gas tank which was being prepared to charge an automobile. R. B. Nye, a bookkeeper, and John Christophersen, a mechanic, were injured, but will recover.

THREATENED BY ZELAYA

American Consul Takes Refuge in Legation.

MAY ENDEAVOR TO ESCAPE

President of Nicaragua May Try to Leave the Country at Night by the Pacific Coast and Anarchy Might Ensnare—Persistently Rumored That Irias Will Be Zelaya's Successor.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The United States consul at Managua has been threatened by President Zelaya and has been granted permission to occupy the legation premises, as being more secure.

The Nicaraguan congress will assemble Wednesday, Dec. 1, and it is rumored that President Zelaya will retire and possibly attempt to escape from the country at night by the Pacific coast. Anarchy, it is said, may ensue. Persistent rumors from various quarters indicate that Irias may succeed Zelaya as president of Nicaragua.

This information is embodied in telegrams more or less delayed in transmission which have been received at the state department from the consular representatives of the United States in Nicaragua.

The first telegram, dated Managua, states that Leroy Cannon was captured Oct. 22 and Leonard Groce on Nov. 2. They were executed Nov. 12. No news regarding the execution reached the department until Nov. 17.

Members of the Red Cross arriving from Castillo report that the capture of Cannon and Groce occurred after a battle and while the two were lost on the banks of the San Juan river. The captain of a ship called to Cannon and Groce, promising not to harm them.

Confirmed by Nicaraguan Press.

These allegations were in part confirmed by the Nicaraguan press, which stated that the execution was for an attempt to blow up steamers. The execution caused general indignation, which was shared by the commander-in-chief, the minister general, Irias, it is asserted, having interceded on the ground of humanity. Nicaraguan lawyers maintained that the execution was unlawful. The Nicaraguan captain is in prison for having refused to carry out Zelaya's sentence that the Americans be shot.

A dispatch from Corinto reports that 1,200 troops of the revolutionary army are in Chinandega and that there is a rumor of a rising in the West in favor of Irias.

A later dispatch from Managua says that much excitement prevails there and that the position of President Zelaya has become precarious. The city of Leon is said to favor Irias for president. Important developments, the consul states, are expected.

A dispatch received from Commander Halstead, in command of the Vicksburg at Corinto, informs the secretary of the navy that there are persistent rumors there that Chinandega will revolt on Dec. 1 in favor of Irias. Foreigners engaged in business, he says, are apprehensive and reports are in circulation that Zelaya is preparing to leave the country by way of the Pacific coast. Heavy recruiting is going on everywhere.

MAYOR BUSSE INVOLVED

His Name Brought Into Graft Inquiry at Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—The appearance of Joseph Medill Patterson, former commissioner of public works, before the Merriam "graft" investigating commission and the bringing into the inquiry of the name of Mayor Fred A. Busse were features of the day's hearing of the committee.

Mayor Busse's name was mentioned while the purchase of certain castings used by the city was being taken up. William A. Coleman, city purchasing agent, had told how Deputy Commissioner of Public Works Paul Redieske and another man whom he described as superintendent of the water works shop, had requested him to purchase the castings of a certain local company.

When asked if any other city official had requested him to buy castings from that company, Mr. Coleman replied that he thought Mayor Busse had said to him that, other things being equal, he would be pleased to have the castings bought of that firm.

"MICHAEL'S"

TAFT'S AMENDMENTS TO THE HEPBURN LAW

Most Important Topic of Discussion in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 30.—President Taft's proposed amendments to the Hepburn rate law continue to be the most important topic of discussion in political and official circles. It is conceded on all sides that these amendments will constitute the chief subject of legislation during the earlier portion of the coming session of congress.

At the White House the president spent four hours in consultation with Attorney General Wickersham, Senator Elkins, chairman of the interstate commerce committee; Interstate Commerce Commissioner Lane and Senator Cummins, the leader of the insurgents. The attorney general produced the bill which he has drafted and with this as a basis the entire subject of railroad legislation was taken up. It was decided that another meeting was necessary before there could be a thorough understanding of the varying views and it is probable that the men present will be summoned to the White House later in the week.

Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, "trust buster" and government counsel in the Standard Oil case, and Secretaries Wilson and Dickinson also gave their views briefly. Mr. Kellogg left for New York, but will return to Washington later in the week.

The president has his mind set upon accomplishing something in connection with alterations in the interstate commerce law and, although his policy is not to interfere with the work of congress, he will use every reasonable influence to make the laws governing transportation stronger in control over the railroads and in benefit to the shipping public and the masses.

Enjoins Two-Cent Rate.

Des Moines, Nov. 30.—Following up his Missouri decision adjudging the two-cent fare law unconstitutional where it can be shown a railroad is unable to earn a reasonable profit Federal Judge Smith McPherson granted a temporary injunction for bidding the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City Railway and Light company from complying with the Iowa two-cent fare law. The hearing was set for Dec. 15.

Petitions for Receiver.

Cincinnati, Nov. 30.—Alleging a condition of virtual insolvency William S. Kisinger sued in the Kenton county (Ky.) circuit court for the appointment of a receiver for the Mutual Mining company, of which Charles L. Warriner, former treasurer of the Big Four railroad, was secretary and treasurer. Warriner has been charged with embezzling funds to the amount of $643,000 from the Big Four road.

REVISION OF THE TARIFF

Senator Nelson Says It Will not Be Made This Winter.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Looking as rugged as an oak and more reticent than usual, Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota appeared at the White House.

After a brief wait in the congressional ante-room Senator Nelson was ushered into the executive office and had a conference with President Taft lasting several minutes.

Efforts to draw Mr. Nelson out on the probability of trust legislation for the coming session were futile. He did say, however, that in his opinion, any effort that might be made this winter to revise the tariff would prove a failure.

SOLD PROCESS TO A. EVERETT

Thompson, Alias May, Alias Bell,
Who Was Killed in La Porte,
Ind., Known Here

WENT UNDER NAME OF BELL

Process for Waterproofing Stone Was Described by Him as Being Dangerous One

It has just transpired here that "H. H. Thompson," who was killed in La-Porte, Indiana, October 20, by an explosion while experimenting with artificial stone, resided in Brainerd about two months a year ago. Thompson, who posed as Harry J. May, in La Porte, passed under the name of H. H. Bell, while in Brainerd. He sold the secret of the processes to A. Everett, of this city, and spent about two months here, coming to Brainerd about the 1st of November, 1908, and remaining until early in January. "Bell" as he was known here is described as a tall, well built blond man, handsome in appearance. While here he spent much of his time at the Everett home, where he took rooms and where he worked making forms for construction of imitation stone, etc. While here he made imitations of Bedford stone which were passed by stone cutters at Crookston as genuine. Bell was a very smooth individual, and endeavored to secure Mr. Everett's endorsement of a note for $200. Mrs. Everett, with a true woman's instincts, distrusted him from the first and induced Mr. Everett to refuse.

While here a woman and a girl 18 or 20 years of age visited him, whom he represented as his wife and daughter. He also stated that he had a married daughter, which would tally with the statement that Thompson had two daughters. He also had another woman who was at one of the local hotels with him a part of the time that he stayed in Brainerd.

While here he posed as somewhat of a musician, and had a handsome mandolin and a beautiful banjo, the latter of which is in the possession of Mrs. Everett, having been held by her for his room rent. It is a beautiful instrument, said to be worth $75, but has never been used.

From here "Bell" went to Grand Forks, where he is said to have sold his secret processes to Dinny Brothers, prominent contractors at Grand Forks.

One thing which makes Mr. Everett sure that Bell, and May and Thompson are one is by the fact that the process of waterproofing stone, which he purchased the formula for, but which they did not try while Bell was here, was described by him as dangerous. It had to be heated and stirred, he said, but that it would explode if heated beyond a certain point. But whether or not it was this he was experimenting when killed is not clear to Mr. Everett, who believes that he may have been being at some other experiment.

Bell's plan seems to have been to go from place to place and sell the process, or an interest in it. Get all the money he could and leave for new pastures. He was at Bemidji, after leaving here and had a woman with him there, but whether or not it was one of the ones who were here is not known.

Forced into Exile

Wm. Upchurch of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air he thought would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, "and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for Coughs and Colds, it cures Grip, Bronchitis, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough. 50c and $1.00, trial bottle free, guaranteed by H. P. Dunn. tts-w

The entire proceeds will be given to the poor of our city at Christmas. All assistance that may be rendered by those desiring to carry comfort and cheer to the homes of poor, whether it be a large or small amount will be received. Supper tickets will be 25 cents each.

WANT DEAN APPOINTED

Agricultural Committee of Minnesota Bankers Association Urge U. of M. Regents to Act

An open letter has been addressed by Joseph Chapman, Jr., chairman of the agricultural committee of the Minnesota Bankers' Association, by Charles R. Frost, secretary of the association to Hon. John Lind, president of the Board of Regents of the University of Minnesota. This letter urges the board to no longer postpone the election of a dean to the agricultural school at St. Anthony's park. The communication recites that with a better plant than Wisconsin has and with equally broad teachers the Wisconsin school is outstripping Minnesota and believes that the uncertainty as to the future head of the school is in part responsible for this.

The communication also advises the passage by the legislature of a bill making education in agriculture compulsory in the Minnesota Public schools.

Death of Mrs. Bixby

Mrs. Judson A. Bixby passed away Sunday afternoon, November 28, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Angus Murray. Emmer Miller was the daughter of Levi Miller and Mary Ann Scott Miller, being the last surviving member of a family of ten children. She was born November 9, 1832, at Orange, Steuben Co., New York, her parents being among the first settlers of that county. January 10, 1856, she was united in marriage to Judson A. Bixby at Monticore. The bride and groom settled in Hornby, New York where they resided until 1870, when they moved west establishing their new home in Sauk Center, Minnesota. There they remained until they came to Brainerd in 1881. Their long residence has made them well and favorably known in this community.

Mrs. Bixby's family consisted of six daughters, two of whom, Mrs. L. P. White and Mrs. W. J. Davenport, are deceased. Those who remain to mourn her departure are: Mrs. H. C. Hughey, Mrs. Angus Murray, Mrs. G. C. Hepperly of Salt Lake City, and Mrs. M. G. Cameron. Her loss will also be keenly felt by her twelve grandchildren and by her great-grandchildren of whom there are three. Mrs. Bixby's death will rest most heavily upon the heart of the husband whose companion she has been thru so many years. The entire family has the warm sympathy of a host of friends in this their hour of bereavement.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 1:00 P. M. at the house, and at the First Baptist church at 2:30 P. M.

Would be Unconstitutional

In about every exchange that comes to our desk we see the item referring to a law purported to have been passed by the last congress making it a misdemeanor to issue a check for less than $1 after Jan. 1, 1909. If some papers would take the trouble to look into the matter they would find that such a law would not only be unconstitutional but was never passed with intention of applying to checks. The item first appeared in the Pioneer Press, "Northeast Corner" and has apparently been headed northwest from the number of papers using it in this section.—Little Falls Transcript.

This dramatization of Geo. Barr McCutcheon's famous novel comes to this city wearing the laurels given by our leading American critics for

It is said that this play is a realistic production of the startling story that book lovers have raved over, and tells in a decidedly dramatic form the romance of the "Gallant American" and the "Royal Princess," with a plentiful supply of humor to heighten the effect.

Ladies of the Musical Club Will Place them on Sale in Various Brainerd Stores

The Ladies of the Brainerd Musical club are making extensive preparations for the sale of Red Cross Christmas stamps. The stamps, which will be placed on sale in the various stores in the city, are being sold for the purpose of waging war against the white plague, tuberculosis. Everyone sending away or going up Christmas packages, should see these stamps and so add their bit to the fund being raised for that purpose.

In Minneapolis the crusade for the sale of these stamps is being pushed by such well known people as Mrs. George Chase Christian, and Mrs. T. F. Quimby, chairman of the committee of forty of the federation of Women's clubs. The ladies of the Brainerd Ladies Musical club are anxious that this city should not fall behind its sister towns in the work. All moneys received from the sale of Red Cross stamps in Brainerd will go for anti tuberculosis work in this city.

One of the finest bunches of deer seen in Brainerd for a long time was photographed by A. M. Opsahl in front of Weitzel's livery barn Monday. There were ten in the bunch, including two fine antlered bucks, six doe and two fawns. The deer were shot by a party of Morrison county men who had been up near Thunder Lake hunting. The members of the party were L. P. Snow, Aushland; F. J. Prosser, Aushland; R. A. Davis, Little Falls; Dan Miller, Little Falls; and Wm. Rail, Aushland. They went up by team and were on their way home and stopped here for dinner and to have their game photographed.

Clover seed is evidently in great demand as Wisconsin men were on the ground at Pillager for the seed and the competition was spirited.

NO AGREEMENT IS REACHED

Switchmen Are Likely to Go Out on Strike.

St. Paul, Nov. 30.—Unless the officials make a satisfactory proposal it is reported that the switchmen will go on a strike soon, affecting railroad yards in the Twin Cities, Duluth, Superior and along the northern routes between here and the North Pacific coast. Neither side would make any statement, but there was every indication that the situation had reached a crisis and unless a settlement could be made quickly something would happen.

Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, and Charles P. Neill, United States labor commissioner, were in session with officials until nearly 1 a. m. While nothing could be obtained from the commissioners or officials it is believed that the officials decided on some kind of an offer to present to the men. Commissioner Knapp retired immediately after the departure of the officials. Mr. Neill peeped through the opening of the door and said:

"There is nothing we can say."
General Superintendent Blanchard of the Northern Pacific replied as to the question of there being a strike:

"I hope not. While there's life there's hope."
Frank T. Hawley, president of the Switchmen's union of North America, and Robert Martin, chairman of the general conference committee of the switchmen, left the Ryan hotel after being in session with the commissioners. Mr. Hawley talked little.

Bridges Washed Away.

Bellingham, Wash., Nov. 30.—Two steel railway bridges and three wagon bridges across the Nooksack river have been carried away in the past twenty-four hours, entailing $100,000 loss. The Bellingham Bay and British Columbia bridge at Everson is said to be undermined.

Willing to Make Up.

New York, Nov. 30.—"If Howard wants to make up, all he has to do is to take me in his arms and I will forgive everything and forget all our troubles," said Mrs. Howard Chandler Christy, wife of the artist, as she discussed the status of the Christy family differences.

STATEMENT BY BALLINGER

Intimates His Ideas Are Those of President Taft.

RECOMMENDATIONS IN REPORT

Full Force of the Administration Will Be Brought to Bear Upon Congress to Enact Them Into Legislation—Intended His Report to the President to Be an Answer to the Attacks of His Critics.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Secretary of the Interior Ballinger came into the open with the statement that his policy as outlined to President Taft in his annual report is the real, "practical," conservation policy which the government can safely adopt.

Secretary Ballinger intimated broadly that his ideas are those of President Taft and that the full force of the administration will be brought to bear upon congress at the coming session to enact just such legislation and none other as was outlined in the Ballinger report, which was made public Monday.

In an extended interview which Secretary Ballinger gave to the newspapers at the Congress hotel Secretary Ballinger made it plain that he intended his report to the president to be a full and complete answer to the attacks of his critics. He refused to discuss Gifford Pinchot personally, referring simply to his own recommendations to congress, which, by comparison, have nothing in common with the idea of the chief forester.

"The policies which I advocate," said Secretary Ballinger, "are principles and policies which I believe are necessary in a broad plan of practical conservation. I recommend to President Taft based upon a quarter of a century of life on the Pacific slope and after a personal visit to the bulk of the water power projects in which the government may be consistently interested. It is my answer to those who may be placed in the attitude of criticism toward me and to the policies which I have advocated and which I will continue to advocate in the conduct of the interior department so long as President Taft reposes confidence in me."

The gist of the remarks of the secretary seemed to be that he intended his report to be a formal and unequivocal answer to the repeated attacks which have been made upon him.

Secretary Ballinger defined his course as quite in line with the policies of the Roosevelt administration.

Great Luck.

OCCIDENT FLOUR

Guaranteed the Best in the World

That doesn't mean much when you read it in an advertisement.

But use one sack. It will mean everything to you then.

There is only one reason why Occident Flour is not used by every woman in her baking:

Because there are some who don't realize the vast difference between Occident and ordinary flour. They think they are all about alike—that the one you get used to is the one you like best.

That proves they have never used Occident. The difference shows in the baking.

No matter what kind of flour you are using now—give Occident a chance to show what it can do. You'll be nothing out if you don't like it.

Read This Fair Offer:

Go to your grocer's and get a sack of Occident Flour. Use as much of it as you please.

Before the sack is gone, you will be convinced that Occident is better in every way than any flour you ever used—gives better and surer results with bread, biscuit, muffins, pastry—all your baking.

If you are not—then, go back to your grocer. He is authorized to refund without argument the full purchase price of any package of Occident which you do not find satisfactory.

There's a Logical Reason for this Difference

You pay a few cents more per sack for Occident.

You don't think much about that when you buy it—but it means everything to the millers.

That "few cents extra" in price enables them to raise the standard of Occident Flour to "highest grade in the world"—from wheat to package.

Better wheat—better mills—better processes—better millers—more rigid and more frequent tests—even better sacks for protection in shipping and handling. Occident Flour sacks alone cost $25,000 a year more than ordinary flour sacks.

Occident Flour is worth the difference in price many times over—the millers prove that before it leaves the mills. You prove it in the results of your baking.

A trial sack for next baking day means less work—better baked stuff.

Why not call up the grocer now?
